SUPREME COURT READY FOR CASE

Will Hear Action Which Would Set Aside Horizontal Tax Increases.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—An echo of the case that brought confusion to Indiana's taxation system in 1920, forcing a call of a special session of the state legislature will be heard Wednesday in the supreme court. The case at bar, however, is not expected to stir up anew the muds that did its predecessor, regardless of the outcome of the case.

The case to be heard Wednesday, with one hour allotted each side for argument, seeks to set aside the horizontal increases in tax appraisals, made by the state tax board after the passage of the Tutthill-Kiper bill by the special session of the legislature. The contention is that these increases, the same as those which the court declared the board without authority to make, should be repudiated as a tax board proceeding in violation of the constitution. General U. S. Lesh and other state officials, who assert the horizontal increases are valid inasmuch as they contend they were legalized by the Tutthill-Kiper bill, and incidentally the same as those which had been held illegal. The lower court ruling sustained the state officials.

The suit before the court was brought by three Marion county taxpayers, and victory for them would result in a refund to them. Similarly other taxpayers might obtain rebates, but William Harrison, secretary of the state tax board, says that claims for such refunds would have to be filed with county commissioners and that before payment might be made it would be necessary for taxing officials to levy higher tax rates in order to get the money with which to make payments. Accordingly, he says the taxpayer would have to pay his own money to get it paid back to him again later.

The taxpayers' argument in the supreme court is that the Tutthill-Kiper bill contemplated a reassessment of real and personal property, and that none was made but on the contrary the state board adopted the horizontal increases previously made by it and invalidated by court action. In reply, the attorney general argues that a valuation of property was fixed in the first case, and that the order enforcing the horizontal increases could be "too hasty," being entered the day the Tutthill-Kiper bill was passed. But, says the attorney general, the Tutthill-Kiper law contemplated action without delay.

GREENWOOD TO BE MUSICIANS' HOST

Indiana Music Teachers Will Hold Annual Convention
in Town.

GREENWOOD, Ind., May 30.—The historic little town of Greenwood will be host tomorrow to leading musicians of the state and its followers, here for the 45th annual convention of the Indiana Music Teachers Association and the American Song Composers Festival. The meeting will last three days.

One of the features of this year's sessions will be the state music memory contest for public school children. Those participating in the event are winners of contests held in many cities during the last few weeks. The Indianapolis Matinee Musical student section, under the direction of Mrs. Frank T. Edmister, and 60 students of the Shelbyville schools, who will present the opera, "The Pirates of Hawaii," are other features.

"Indiana Day" will be observed on June 1. The Indiana Song Composers' contest will take place the afternoon of June 1. It has been announced. Only American music will be played on that evening, according to the program.

Programs by the Indiana State Federation of Music Clubs, the Indianapolis Municipal Symphony Orchestra and Indiana artists and recitations by various artists also are scheduled. The annual Oscar Sauer scholarship contest of the festival will be held the afternoon of June 1, and is open to both male and female voices.

PLANT HALF MILLION FRY IN INDIANA LAKES

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—Approximately 325,000 advanced fry raised at the Riverside hatchery here this season have been planted in public waters within a radius of 40 miles, south and west of Indianapolis in the last few days. George N. Mannfeld, of the state conservation department has announced.

More than a million of bass remain in the 31 cultural ponds of the state, and will be permitted to reach the fingerling stage before planting, Mr. Mannfeld added. This year's hatch was declared to be the largest of any in the history of the conservation department.

Cantata at Nappanee Is Declared Grand Success

NAPPANEE, May 30.—The presentation of Cowen's cantata masterpiece, "The Rose Maiden," at the First M. E. church, Nappanee, last night was a triumph. About 400 attended.

Thirty-five representatives of the local choral, with Miss Maud Boyler, soprano, of South Bend, in the name part, Miss Alice Noid, as the gardener's daughter, J. B. Sharp, as the Forester, W. W. Wilson, as the spring, and Miss Treva Anglin in the trio, "Hast thou wandered?" Miss Marion Brevier, organist, Mrs. W. W. Wilson, pianist and W. P. McHenry, South Bend, director, gave the cantata, with all its dramatic involvements of voice and instrumental tests of ability with a rare grace and charm.

An informal reception followed the finale.

Prohibition To Boost Price On Grape Mart, Said

Michigan Fruit Growers Now Predict Cash Harvest With Fruit Crop.

ST. JOSEPH, May 30.—Berrien county fruit growers will collect $5,000 out in the markets this year, according to F. W. Emerson, secretary of the Berrien county farm bureau, who believes the orchards will yield the bumper crop of two years ago.

Ideal weather conditions, he said, made fruit look better than it ever did at this time of the year. Emerson says the critical period for fruit has passed and that orchardists may just as well take paper and pencil in hand and reckon profits. Except possibly Baldwin apples, all other fruit will yield copiously.

Record Crop.
Berrien and VanBuren county vineyards, too, will produce a record crop this year. Casa county, spreading out as a grape district, also will figure in a record yield. Vineyard records already are receiving offers from the market gamblers. Some have sold as the vines stand, but the majority of grape owners are not feeling the financial depression. The bumper crop of two years ago enriched them more than any had anticipated.

There is no secret that the prohibition period has increased the demand for grapes. The juice of the Concord forms the body for many home brew concoctions.

Strawberries will make their appearance in Benton Harbor this week. The first pick goes to Chicago for a pull.

HEALTH THE SECRET OF ATTRACTION

Women of today depend a good deal upon the modern modiste and a knowledge of the cosmetic to make them attractive. Too often there exists beneath it all a suffering woman whose nervous laugh or forced smile covers a pang of agony caused by some feminine ill. To such a woman Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring health and a happy relief from her suffering, that will make her far more attractive than costly gowns or cosmetics.

For nearly fifty years American women have relied upon this root and herb medicine to relieve their ailments.—Adv.

VERSE O' CHEER By Edgar L. Jones

KEEP WORKING.

The you're tired of your job
When it's going wrong
And it seems that you can't pull thru
Don't follow the mob
As it mopes along
For it isn't the job—it's you!
Don't give up the fight
Take advantage of every break.
The goal comes in sight
The road is rough,
If you work enough,
It's all in the fight you make.

The you're tired of the same
Old dreary grind,
Disheartened and ready to quit,
Dus into the game.
If you work you'll find
When the world looks blue
And you're down and out
It's tough I'll admit—but say
If you struggle thru
With a happy shout
And work—you will win the day.

The you're tired of your work
And you're tired of toil,
Remember the spirit's son
That a fool will shirk
But the wise men folk
Bad luck with the work they've done.
For a fool can quit
And a fool can play
But it takes a he-man who will grin
And will do his bit
In the proper way
By working the job—to win!

True liberty is the right to do Right,
He that has the worst cause
Makes the most noise.
An hour in the morning is worth
Two in the evening.
He that gives to a grateful man
Puts out to usury.
Men err not so much in prompt
Action as in hasty judgment.

POISON ROSE CHAFERS, COUNTY AGENT WARNS.
Warning that rose chafers, which attack grapes, will be prevalent in Berrien vineyards again this season was given today by F. L. Simanton, county agricultural agent.

They were unusually abundant last year, Mr. Simanton pointed out, adding that they will attack the same vineyards. Here is the way to eradicate them. Use a special application with 4-4-50 Bordeaux, containing 1 1/2
pounds of calcium arsenate to each 50 gallons of Bordeaux. Apply it about three days before blooming time, and repeat on the first day the blossoms appear.

The county agent also advised growers to obtain nicotine and rosin, so as to clean out grape leaf hoppers, when the time comes early in July.

Not safe to be with- out ice in May

THIS is a month of sudden changes.
Cool one day and sultry the next.
Without ice in your refrigerator, your food may spoil any time. If it does not spoil badly enough to throw away, it loses its freshness and appetizing flavor.

It is poor economy indeed to save a few cents worth of ice and lose a few dollars' worth of food value. That is exactly what happens in many households which put off taking ice regularly until steady warm weather sets in.

Ice consumption in May is very light. It requires very little ice to keep your refrigerator cold ALL THE TIME. On cool days the ice melts slowly.
On hot days you are prepared.
